Dear Willy:

I apologize for not getting back to you last week.

In the future the landfill activity associated with the Cemetery will be the "A" variety. The fill brought to the site will be levelled and graded for the development of the new section of the cemetery.

The gravel we are going to make on site from the existing stockpiles will be loaded out over the next few months but it is not our intention to make any products on the site after this session.

At present we will be stockpiling concrete and blacktop on the site until we get an alternative site in operation. The District and the City are combining efforts with regard to establishing a spoil recycling site near the waterfront - the hope is this site will be operational early in 2004. Any materials stockpiled at the cemetery in the meantime will be shifted to the new waterfront site for the gravel making process.

Regards - Brent Mahood

Brent, thanks for the update. I have a question about the plan, could you clarify please.

Will future landfill activities bring in material that will be stockpiled, sorted, crushed and some sub materials shipped out or will you be accepting only clean fill from here on in.

In other works, what kind of activities can we expect in the future:

- A. trucks coming in full, dumping and leaving empty. Equipment then grading/levelling OR
- B. the same full on materials processing we had last summer that involves everything in A in addition to sorting and crushing equipment and subsequent exporting of a subset of processed materials.

Thx, Willy

I have attached a letter I have mailed to the SVCA care of Mr. Mauer to keep you abreast of the developments in the North Vancouver Cemetery landfill.

Mr. Schuurman, I have copied you separately to ensure the information reaches you given the discussions you have in the past with Don Sigston of the District and myself.
